GREAT BANQUET

FEDERATED BROTHERHOOD HOLDS BIG MEETING, DISCUSSES CIVIC AFFAIRS

The annual meeting of the Federated Brotherhood of the churches of Glendale was held last night in the social hall of the M. E. church. This is the one Brotherhood meeting of the year when the ladies are welcomed and they were out in full force. Nearly 400 people partook of the dinner served, which was topped off with pumpkin pie in honor of the Hallowe'en season. After all had finished the repast they were invited up-stairs to the main auditorium, where Arthur G. Lindley, president of the Federated Brotherhood, after a few explanatory statements concerning the work and aims of the Brotherhood introduced as the speaker of the evening Rev. Robert Shuler, the new pastor of Trinity M. E. church of Los Angeles, "Fighting Bob," as he was called in Paris, Texas, whence he came to the Angel City. Rev. Shuler, after describing the long fight in which he participated to make Texas dry, in the course of which his life was threatened more than once and he was sent home with bruised and bloodied face twice, he said: "That was a fight against red liquor, while your battle is for law enforcement, now that liquor is forever banished by legal enactment." Referring to the constant efforts of stock and poultry breeders to raise the standard of production to perfection he said it is time we are trying to produce perfect men and women. The place to begin is in the home. We are making life too easy for our children, taking from them wholesome tasks so they are led to unwholesome amusements to pass away the time, said the speaker. He urged the carrying of the bonds to provide a place for clean amusements for the young people, that they may not be tempted by the dance hall, the pool hall and other amusements that tend to evil. Rev. Shuler made an impassioned plea for the Harris Enforcement law, also, in order that the hands of the Federal government may be strengthened by the legal forces of the state in upholding the 18th amendment. He scored the non-voter heavily, insisting that his neglect to exercise the right of franchise in support of just men and measures is a crime.

Hartley Shaw, president of the board of trustees, was the next speaker, and he explained briefly the occurrences that led up to the proposition for the $100,000 bond issue

Hallowe'en Masquerade

The Ladies' Aid of Central Christian church gave a Hallowe'en masquerade party at the home of Mrs. Eva Hutton, 326 East Colorado, yesterday afternoon. The house was lavishly decorated in Hallowe'en colors, yellow, white and black, with "cutouts" of witches, black cats, etc., flowers and streamers. Some of the costumes were very amusing and one was most striking, as it represented "advertising." It was made entirely of paper and consisted of advertisements of coming events in the church life. Refreshments suitable to the season were served.

The members of the Aid present were Mesdames Hutton, Daugherty, Archer, Cole, Shropshire, Binns, Borthick, Stem, Jodon, Fisher, Weisling, Green, Bennett and Peck; Misses Chester, Archer and Hutton.

P.-T. A. Chairmen

The chairmen of Patriotism of P.-T. A. met at the Intermediate School Tuesday, Oct. 26th, in informal session. Representatives from the Intermediate, Broadway, Acacia Ave., Cerritos Ave., Pacific Ave. and High Schools, with Supt. White and Mrs. Crawford, Federation Chairman of Patriotism, were present. After short talks they decided to have a parade in the morning on Armistice day, if not conflicting with Los Angeles parade. All city organizations are to send representatives to a committee meeting at the Intermediate School on Wednesday evening, November 3d.

Death of Mrs. Gordon

Mrs. Hattie A. Gordon passed away this morning at 6 o'clock at the home of her son, Eugene E. Gordon, 343 Salem Street. She was 79 years old. The remains are at the L. G. Scovern Undertaking Company parlors. Funeral arrangements have not been completed. Mr. Gordon is the proprietor of the Smart Shop.

RECREATION CENTER

CITY MANAGER WATSON OUTLINES PLAN OF CITY TRUSTEES FOR THIS

The character of the City of Glendale is established as a City of Homes and as a Clean City Kept Clean. To our knowledge there is no condition existing in the City of Glendale either from a moral standpoint or from the standpoint of physical cleanliness or sanitation that is out of harmony with the high character of the people of Glendale or that does not conform to the well-established reputation of the community as a whole.

This no doubt has had a great deal to do with the fact that Glendale is now one of the fastest growing cities proportionately not only of California, but in the entire United States. The city is growing now at the rate of five thousand new inhabitants a year. We do not over estimate the present population when we place it at twenty thousand. At the present rate of growth before two years have passed there will be thirty thousand people living within the City of Glendale. For the benefit of those who may have recently taken up their residence with us, it might be well to call attention to the fact that the City of Glendale as we see it today has been practically all built within the last ten to twelve years. Glendale is a young city with most of its civic problems yet to be solved. The rapid growth of the city is forcing these problems upon us not one at a time but it seems as though at this very moment there are a dozen major problems effecting the immediate and future growth and development of the city that should have the attention of our people. For this reason we desire to speak on a little broader plan than might be in the minds of some when contemplating the project under discussion.

There has been in our mind for three years past the definite outline of an institution that we hoped would soon be developed to take care of certain very specific public needs that are so apparent and are so worthy of our attention that there should not be any differences of opinion in regard to taking care of them.

There has been a crying need for many years for public comfort stations in the main business center of the city. We hardly think it necessary to produce any argument in support of that statement. We have yet to find a person who does not admit such to be the case. Public comfort stations properly built, properly located, adequate for the present and future needs of this growing city will cost a considerable sum. While we have had no estimate made based on prices to date, yet we would not want to place such estimate at less than $15,000. We have given the matter of location a great deal of consideration during the past several months and it is quite apparent to us that the city will be compelled to purchase ground upon which or in front of which to locate these comfort stations. That in itself makes it necessary for us to consider a central location on one of our business streets for the institution we have under consideration if these public comfort stations are to be a part of it.

As the business section of the city grows larger the need for a women's rest room will be greatly increased. The City of Pasadena has a well-furnished rest room for women where the ladies employed in the offices and stores in the down town section may gather and eat their lunches and rest during their noon hour. This also serves as a general public rest room for women; such a rest room might well be located on the second floor.

There has been a great deal of discussion in this city since its organization in regard to providing a place of recreation or amusement for the young men. We have always felt that Glendale should do a little better in this respect than has yet been done by any community that we know of.

From discussing this question with the people of the city from time to time during these several years, we

New Theatre Sign

The new electric sign for the Glendale Theatre shone out in all its glory for the first time last night. It is one of the largest in Glendale and attracted considerable attention from the first moment it shone forth. Enclosing the words "Glendale Theatre" is a glowing band of light which has the appearance of rapid motion around the edge of the big sign board and it has a peculiar flashing effect.

MRS. R. C. PEETE CHARGED WITH MURDER

"MYSTERY WOMAN" TAKEN BEFORE GRAND JURY AT 11:30 TODAY; REFUSED TO TESTIFY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 27.—Mrs. Richard C. Peete, former tenant in the home of Jacob C. Denton, was today formally charged with the murder of the wealthy mining man in an indictment returned by the county grand jury.

Mrs. Peete was taken before the county grand jury at 11:30 and left the jury room at 11:33 after refusing to testify.

Indictment of Mrs. Peete today brought to a climax one of the most mysterious murders of recent years. Only one indictment was returned.

The woman, who had been under technical arrest since yesterday, was immediately taken to the county jail. She had been held in the district attorney's office after she refused to testify before the grand jury today. Her refusal was on the advice of her attorney, W. J. Ford.

When brought to the Hall of Records from the hotel at La Crescenta, where she was kept under heavy guard during the night, Mrs. Peete appeared to have completely lost the remarkable composure she had exhibited since she came from Denver to aid in the murder probe.

HARDING TO MAKE APPEAL WITH DIGNITY

By WARREN G. HARDING
(Written for the United Press)
(Copyrighted 1920)

MARION, Ohio, Oct. 27.—The experience of the campaign has shown that the American people will insist that presidential candidates make their appeal with consistent and becoming dignity. It is my purpose to fully and frankly comply with that requirement.

Throughout the campaign I have done my best to insure that this election will be the great solemn referendum which President Wilson asked, and am confident that the result will show that the American people have been thinking deeply and rightly on the great issues involved.

America today stands on the threshold of world leadership and has the courage to grasp it. She realizes too, that this opportunity was well nigh lost through misapplied ambition to shape a new world order.

Today the world looks to unselfish America to lead the way to concord and peace.

The Republican party and I as its spokesman intend that this hope shall not be in vain.

AUTO BANDITS ARE KILLED IN GUN BATTLE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 27.—Two automobile bandits were killed, one wounded, and Officer Alder of El Monte wounded in a gun battle on the highway outside of Los Angeles about midnight last night. The gun fight took place when Alder and George Hamlin, El Monte garage man, attempted to arrest the trio, who were said to have committed numerous holdups in that vicinity during the past few weeks. The three men, all Mexicans, opened fire when commanded to halt. Two were shot dead, the third is in a critical condition at the county hospital. Alder will recover, physicians said.

HEART FAILURE CAUSED MAC SWINEY DEATH

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Terence MacSwiney died from heart failure according to the coroner's verdict returned today, which said that "dilated heart, acute delirium, and scurvy, due to exhaustion from his prolonged refusal to take food," caused his death. Following the inquest, MacSwiney's body was conveyed to St. George's Cathedral to rest in state until tomorrow, when services will be conducted by Arch-Bishop Mannix and Bishop Cotter.

DEMPSEY TO RECEIVE $300,000 FOR FIGHT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Jack Kearns announced articles for the fight between Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier will be signed when they have been redrafted. While the agreement was to have been signed this morning, Kearns today objected to certain clauses. It is understood the agreement will give Dempsey a $300,000 guarantee and Carpentier $200,000. The fight will probably be held about next July 4th in New York.

DENIES VANDERLIP IS HARDING'S AGENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The State Department today received Senator Harding's flat denial of Secretary Colby's assertion yesterday that Washington Vanderlip, who recently secured trade concessions from the Russian Soviet government, was an agent of the Republican candidate. Colby's statement followed reports from the American Consular agent at Riga that Vanderlip represented himself as Harding's agent when dealing with Premier Lenine.

MRS. PEETE "LOST"

STAR WITNESS IN DENTON CASE DISAPPEARED FROM LA CRESCENTA HOTEL

Mrs. R. C. Peete, one of the star witnesses in the Denton murder case, showed on Monday and Tuesday how easy it is sometimes to elude a trained police and detective force. She was guarded by three detectives in the hotel at La Crescenta where she, her husband and little girl had located, by the consent of Dist. Atty. Woolwine. On Monday afternoon she took the local bus to Glendale, apparently unrecognized by any one, after having walked out of the hotel under the very noses of her guards. Arrived in Glendale she seems to have boarded a P. E. car for Los Angeles, where she spent the night in a down-town hotel, still unrecognized, though scores of officers were scouring city, country and beach towns looking for her. At 8 o'clock yesterday morning she phoned her husband, who was still at La Crescenta, that she was in Los Angeles and had not been trying to escape from the espionage of the District Attorney. The latter claimed all Monday afternoon that he knew where Mrs. Peete was but at night confessed to reporters that she had disappeared and asked their aid in finding her. She is now "found," though she claims she was never lost at any time but simply going about her business as any ordinary citizen has the right to do. She is now being guarded in Los Angeles to prevent any further disappearances and was to appear before the grand jury today.

Amusing Mix-Up

Henry Clay Needham, the veteran Prohibitionist of Los Angeles, came out to Glendale to attend the dry rally in the High School auditorium Tuesday evening and make a stirring speech for the Harris Law and Randall. When he drove into Glendale he saw the Elks' building brilliantly lighted and supposed that was the right place. He turned in the drive and just hten a man came running out and said: "Some of the boys down in Tropico want to be brought up." "Hop in," said Needham, "we'll get them." On coming back he could hardly drive in for so many autos. Needham was surprised at the attendance. "Why, this beats any dry rally I have been in this year. When does the meeting commence? I'm here for a speech for this Harris rally." "This is no Harris law rally," said his new friend, "this is a regular meeting of the Elks' lodge. You are in the wrong pew." So Needham left his car and hunted up the High School.

House Famine

With so many new residences being completed every week there ought to be some relief from the house famine. The ones on the list yesterday, as indicated by light meters ordered installed were those of O. A. Oie, 469 West California avenue; Z. C. Hayworth, Sixth and Vine avenue; E. H. Peterson, 1410 East California avenue; E. P. Munger, 613 East Maple; W. S. Allison, 447 West Windsor Road; A. Preuss, 333 West Acacia. The house at 214 South Louise, formerly occupied by Jose Feliz, has been remodeled and repainted. It will be moved into this week by Mrs. J. M. Boynton.

Lieut. Lester Meyer

Mr. and Mrs. A. Meyer of 208 East Chestnut received a telegram this morning from New York City stating that the body of their son, Lieut. Lester L. Meyer, had arrived from France and would be shipped to Glendale at once. Funeral arrangements will be announced when the body arrives. Lieut. Meyer was a very promising aviator and was killed on his first flight in action.

Trustees Meet Tonight

The City Trustees will hold their regular weekly meeting tonight instead of on the usual evening, Thursday. The change is made so that the members can attend the opening of the new Glendale Theatre tomorrow evening.

Death of Mrs. Dearhart

Mrs. Annie Louise Dearhart passed away at her home, 240 Dayton Court, yesterday. She is survived by her husband, J. B. Dearhart, and one son. The remains will be shipped east. The L. G. Scovern Undertaking Company is in charge.

TUESDAY CLUB

REGULAR MEETING HELD TUESDAY AFTERNOON IN MASONIC TEMPLE

The regular meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon Club was held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m., in Masonic Temple, with Mrs. Charles E. Hutchinson, president, in the chair. In the absence of the General Curator, Mrs. A. W. Tower, Mrs. O. E. Von Oven gave a report of the movement of the various sections. Civic Chairman Mrs. H. E. Bartlett spoke in support of the bond election for the Civic Center in Glendale which as a beginning would mean rest room, information bureau, comfort station and recreation rooms in the heart of Glendale and a swimming pool in the northern part. Mrs. Hutchinson supplemented the former speaker with the request that all club members vote for these bonds and thus show their loyalty to Glendale and the boys and girls of the city.

Mrs. C. H. Temple, Chairman of Ways and Means. told of the change of date of the bazaar and requested that members kindly offer their donations to the curators of the various sections who will have in their charge the booths, which will include: Fancy Work, Music and Shakespeare Sections, Mrs. C. H. Marlenee and Mrs. O. E. Von Oven; aprons and holders, literary section, Mrs. A. M. Williams; dolls, philanthropic section, Mrs. LeRoy Bosserman; handkerchiefs, calling and courtesy chairmen, Mrs. Frank Ayars and Mrs. Oliver Clark; candy, philanthropic and membership chairmen, Mrs. E. D. Yard and Mrs. E. S. McKee; ice-cream, decoration chairman, Mrs. Walter Jones; cooked food, hospitality chairman, Mrs. L. W. Sinclair; goose, Mrs. J. T. Crampton. Particular emphasis was laid on the fact that members and friends of the club alike may find opportunity to give where the will inclines, as by this method it is hoped that the debt on the lots be liquidated as quickly as possible. Mrs. Hutchinson spoke briefly of Amendment 2, the Harris

Bring well-filled lunch baskets. All Illinoisans and their friends in Los Angeles are cordially invited to attend, is the word sent out by the president of the society, James A. Tomlinson.

LITTLE "WANT AD"

BRINGS OLD FRIENDS TOGETHER AND LEASES HOME FOR WINTER

Mrs. L. B. Rambeau on her recent visit to old friends, Thomas Getz and wife, living at Ramona's marriage place, near San Diego, received such an urgent invitation to spend some months with them that she finally resolved to lease her home at 122 West Lomita avenue, furnished, for the winter and accept the invitation. So she put an ad in The Evening News and before she had received her own copy of the paper four applicants had called her on the phone. But, best of all, Mrs. Rambeau said there came another answer in person, from one who proved to be an old friend. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bungay of Venice were in Glendale that day looking for a place to lease in Glendale. They own a beautiful eleven-room home in the beach city, but thought Glendale's climate would be more healthful for them, so Mrs. Bungay came up here to try to locate. She came into The Evening News office and bought a copy of the paper as soon as it was off the press, saw the ad and went at once to see Mrs. Rambeau, whom she recognized by the name as an old friend. She found them to be so when she met Mrs. Rambeau. Her younger sister and Marjorie Rambeau having been schoolmates in San Francisco and the two families warm friends. She quickly closed a deal for the Rambeau home and she and Mr. Bungay will spend the winter in beautiful Glendale.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE PRAISES RANDALL'S RECORD

"In the Ninth Congressional District, Hon. Charles H. Randall is opposed by C. F. Van de Water. Both are dry. Mr. Randall's congressional record on this question has been superb, a national benefaction and worthy of the gratitude of his constituents."—From statement of Anti-Saloon League.—Adv. 47t6

VAN DE WATER APPROVED BY ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

The Anti-Saloon League officially announces that both candidates for Congress in the 9th District are dry, and "each individual will vote as he or she pleases." Neither Randall nor Van de Water are endorsed, but the statement closes in this language: "Mr. Van de Water has a flawless record also both locally and officially as a dry worker and advocate." This frank statement on the part of the Anti-Saloon League should convince the most ardent dry Republican that it is his or her duty to vote for the Republican nominee, Mr. Charles F. Van de Water for Congress.—Adv. 47t6

RETURN RANDALL TO CONGRESS

Not only dry, but experienced. An experienced chauffeur, bank clerk or manager is preferred to inexperienced men. Why not apply this safe rule in selecting a Congressman? Return Randall. "He knows the business of a Congressman." See display ad elsewhere.

CITY DIRECTORY

THE EVENING NEWS ASKS THE AID OF ALL CITIZENS IN PERFECTING IT

The enumerators who are securing names of the residents of Glendale for the new directory, soon to be issued, report that some people do not realize the full purpose of the compilation, which is to list every resident of Glendale, with place of residence, occupation if it is wished to state it. Then there will be a complete business directory and a householders' list of all the streets, so that any person's residence may be quickly ascertained. Some persons ask if the names of very small babies are wanted and the enumerators of course tell them that the name of every person of any age is wanted, so that the population of the city may be known.

If any family is missed by the enumerators because of absence from home when they call, or for any other reason, the Evening News will take it as a great favor if some member of a family so missed will bring, send or phone to the office a list of all the members of the family, giving the first name or initials of the father and his occupation, the wife's first name, the names of all the children in the order of their ages, with each name plainly written and correctly spelled. If the father is not living, so state, and give the mother's full name and occupation if any. If any of the children are above High School age and either attend college or are employed, so state, and designate the kind of occupation, as clerk, traveling salesman, stenographer, etc.

And if you move from one part of the city to another we would appreciate it if we are notified, in which case both the old address and the new are given. This will not be necessary, however, if the enumerators have none of them been on your street as yet.

We have four enumerators at work every day and they will have been over all of the east and west streets by this evening and a few of the very short north and south streets. So if you live on an east and west street and have not been seen by an enumerator by tonight, you may know he called when you were away and should take steps to furnish the information required to this office.

We want you to feel that this is your directory, so you will take a personal interest in helping to make it complete and accurate, so that this wonderful city of Glendale may be properly set forth to the world.

A Frank Confession

It is easy to understand why there should be "hearty satisfaction" in Germany over the Hamburg-American deal. If Germans were not pleased by it they would be hard to please indeed. Dr. Cuno, the head of the German company, who played an important part in the negotiations, observes picturesquely that "the Hamburg-American Line will travel first-class under this agreement." Such is his interpretation of the "heaven-sent" opportunity for the American merchant marine discerned by the optimistic eye of Admiral Benson.

Dr. Cuno makes one statement which amply justifies the conclusion that German commerce is to be benefited at the expense of American. He does not attempt to conceal the fact that the trade routes from Hamburg to other than American ports will be exploited in behalf of German interests. The lines to these ports, he says, "will be operated in such a manner that the Hamburg-American company is to have the initiative in proposing rates, regulations and tonnage." The arrangements for the North Atlantic traffic may be on a "fifty-fifty" basis; but so far as South America, the Orient and other quarters where German trade has languished during the war are concerned, the Germans are to have their own way in fixing the terms of competition by means of the discriminations in their power to make.

This is a circumstance which completely refutes the theory that the deal will be of equal advantage to the United States and to Germany. On the contrary German steamship companies and German manufacturers propose to climb back to their old position in the foreign trade with American help. No wonder they are felicitating themselves on the east with which they have pulled the wool over American eyes.

As Invitations Go

"I hear there has been a movement in this town to get rid of the dishonest lawyers."

"There has been such a movement. But the committee couldn't find any dishonest lawyers."

"Indeed—who formed the committee?"

"Why, the lawyers, of course."—Karsuren, Christiana.

Judge Jackson Favorite

There were 91,549 votes cast for Judge Grant Jackson of the Los Angeles county superior court at the last election in which his name appeared on the ballot.

Judge Jackson had at that time been on the bench but a year, having been appointed by Governor ohnson when six additional judgeships were created for Los Angeles county.

Judge Jackson's popularity, brought about through his humanitarian and unique methods of arriving at justice, made him a sure winner only a year after his appointment. It is pointed out by his great number of friends that his seven years of work on the bench will undoubtedly be recognized by the voters at the November election by giving him a vote that will put him near the top of the ticket for judges.—Adv.

The meeting at the High School Auditorium Monday night in the interests of the Harris Enforcement act and of Congressman Randall was fairly well attended. Addresses were made by H. A joint meeting of the High School Teachers' Club and the City School Teachers' Club was held Monday afternoon in the auditorium, Prof. Geo. E. Lockwood, president of the former club in the chair. John Robert White was present by invitation and explained very clearly the amendments to be voted on next Tuesday from the standpoint of those favoring and those opposing them.

C. D. Lusby and wife are moving today to the new home at 118 East Park avenue, which they have owned for some months and have just finished repainting and decorating throughout. They sold the former home at 404 North Jackson last spring to H. Bennett and wife of North Dakota, who were spending the winter in Glendale. They will move in this week.

Thad E. Yager, formerly in the restaurant and confectionery at 111 South Brand, at first by himself and later in partnership with J. A. Pope, came down Monday from Fillmore, where he is conducting a very prosperous restaurant business, to meet his brother Deck of Nashville, Ark., who is to arrive today. Mrs. Thad Yager joined her husband here yesterday for a short visit with old friends.

Willson's machine at Colorado, injuring Mrs. Willson and her mother, was tried yesterday before Judge Lowe on the charge of reckless driving. Deputy Grover from the District Attorney's office and the attorney for the Automobile Club of Southern California prosecuted and John Everson of Glendale defended Mr. Mills, who was acquitted by the jury.

which is to be voted on next Tuesday, and stated that a swimming pool, rest room, comfort station, and an amusement center for both indoor and outdoor games was contemplated and would be provided if the bonds carried, a competent man to be in charge. He urged that none of the voters overlook the little ballot when they go to the polls next Tuesday.

City Manager Watson followed Mr. Shaw and spoke on city problems as well as city opportunities. He referred to Glendale's marvelous growth in the last year and said it was because people knew that here they could find clean surroundings as well as healthful climate, and it is the duty and privilege of every citizen who loves his home to keep things this way. He referred, as had Mr. Shaw, to the intentions of the trustees as to the use of the money if bonds are voted, and warned his hearers that defeat of the bonds meant that a pool hall, possibly more than one, conducted for private gain, would follow. He said he firmly believed that the trustees were conscientious in their stand on this question and he was not criticising them for expressing their honest convictions.

Mr. Ingledue followed Mr. Watson and he urged his hearers to not only vote for the bonds but to work all day for them, that our city might be saved from what he considered would be the baneful effects of a commercialized pool hall. While some good people might object to pool and billiard tables in a municipal recreation center he thought that with a red-blooded Christian man in charge, these games, innocent in themselves, would have no corrupting influence, as the environment would be pure.

C. D. Lusby, chairman of the publicity committee, was the last speaker and he dwelt strongly on the duty of every voter to be at the polls to cast his ballot for the bonds, and to work all day for the success of the campaign. He had papers passed around the room for the signatures of all who would promise to thus vote and work next Tuesday.

A rising vote of thanks was tendered Rev. Shuler for his presence and masterly address and the meeting then adjourned.

Bill, also of Community Property Law and asked that members think seriously of these questions while exercising their own opinions. Prof. Richardson D. White was presented by Mrs. Hutchinson and explained concisely Amendments 12 and 16 and asked for their support. Announcement was made that Mrs. Shelly Tolhurst and Prof. Roy Malcolm would speak on the League of Nations at the High School on Saturday evening. Mrs. Hutchinson introduced Mrs. Guy Bush, chairman of Altruistic Music, of the District, who, in charming manner, gave a lecture-recital of American Folk Music, an emanation of the Negro and Indian, in which she told of the early periods of music peculiar to the time as well as place and illustrated by singing several of the songs composed by modern musicians although carrying the tune or notes, as follows: "Incantation," "Canoe Song" (Cadman); "The Land of the Sky Blue Water" (Cadman), and of the Negro melodies, "Some of Dese Days" (David Geyon); "Is Just the Same Today" (Buckley); "Stood on the Rim of Jordan" (Burley), and "Malindy" (Burley).

The decorations, in charge of Mrs. Walter Jones, carried out the scheme of the program and were lovely in the colorings, red and yellow dahlias and green fernery, while a red and green rug draped the walls and Indian baskets of every description filled with the flowers were placed artistically; also the suggestion was further carried out by the bows and arrows and woven plates here and there. A splendid audience was present.

Never Drink Water

A large number of the smaller kinds of desert mammals never drink water. They live and thrive on dry seeds and scraps of vegetation in places where the heat and aridity are excessive without even touching their lips to water, and it has been found impossible to teach some of them to take water in captivity. Apparently they never know thirst or the delight of quenching it.

Interstate Towns

There is an old story that many of the names of towns, sleeping cars, etc., were devised by a maniac who had a passion for writing letters on the walls of his cell in meaningless combinations. Travelers who attempt to pronounce some of the difficult names they see on cars are very much inclined to believe this story.

The appropriate names for new towns are often as hard to select as car names and some of those selected are apparently as meaningless and are as difficult to pronounce. For many of them, however, there is a reason.

Many towns that lie partly in one state and partly in another, or close to the state line, have fine sounding and distinctive names that are made up of parts of the names of the two states. The following are names of this kind that appear on maps issued by the United States Geological Survey of the Department of the Interior:

Arizmo, Arizona-New Mexico.
Calada, California-Nevada.
Calexico, California-Mexico. (In the Mexican half of the town the order is reversed and it is called Mexicali.)
Calneva, California-Nevada.
Calvada, California-Nevada.
Calzona, California-Arizona.
Colmex, Colorado-New Mexico.
Coluta, Colorado-Utah.
Delmar, Delaware-Maryland.
Kanorado, Kansas-Colorado.
Kenova, Kentucky-Ohio-West Virginia.
Mondak, Montana-North Dakota.
Monida, Montana-Idaho.
Penmar, Pennsylvania-Maryland.
Sylmar, Pennsylvania-Maryland.
Texarkana, Texas-Arkansas.
Texico, Texas-New Mexico.
Texla, Texas-Louisiana.
Uvada, Utah-Nevada.
Virgilina, Virginia-Carolina.
Wyocolo, Wyoming-Colorado.

In Texarkana, which is one of the largest towns on the list, the post office building is on the boundary line, one half in each state. Some other names of this class not yet shown on Geological Survey maps are Alaga, Arkinda, Arkla, Dakoming, Texhoma, Urado, Wissota, and Wyuta.

It will be noted that this idea of combination appears to be particularly a southern and western one. North of Mason and Dixon's Line and east of the Mississippi it has not prevailed.

Now That She Has It

In the granting of universal suffrage to women a mighty and unknown force has been unleashed. On every side one hears the question, "What will they do with it?" This seems a strange inquiry. The vote regarded as a priceless possession and closely restricted by the founders of the government, has in the passing years been conferred on millions of men without their asking—on the wage earners, the immigrants, the negroes, the Indians—and in not a single instance has there been anxious questioning as to what they would do with it. This anxiety is a compliment to the women, a recognition of their independence, self-reliance and ability, a confession that they are quite as likely to lead as to be led.

But why all the curiosity at this late day? Is woman suffrage so new and untried an experiment? Women have been voting on the same terms as men for fifty years in Wyoming; a quarter of a century in Colorado, Utah and Idaho; from eight to ten years in Kansas, Arizona, California, Oregon and Washington. What have they done there? It cannot be anything so very radical or startling, as one neighboring state after another enfranchised its women until almost the whole territory west of the Mississippi River was included, and it extended eastward. Has anybody ever heard of a move toward a "woman's party" in any of these states during all these years? On the other hand, have women merely doubled the vote? In every state the party managers will admit that the "woman vote" is now and always has been an uncertain element in the political situation; that it cannot be controlled as the men's vote can; that women as a whole are far less partisan than men, and that their vote is a positive influence which must be reckoned with.

Success

The test of life is living. The test of worth is service. He who serves himself and no other is a failure though death releases his grasp on the ransom of an empire. He who finds life bitter is a failure, though multitudes cheer him on the street. The king who rules an unhappy and maltreated people is a failure. The carpenter who hangs a door well is a success. There is more honor in using one talent well than in abusing the possession of ten.

To keep clean, to do good work, to earn friends, to be happy and bestow happiness, to develop opportunity, to serve where possible and learn not to whine—this is success. There is no greater; there is no other.—Robert Quillen, in Saturday Evening Post.

A Great Relief Organization

"The laundry," said the head of a powerful federation of American women in a recently published interview, "is the greatest relief organization that has ever aided the housewives of America. It has eliminated 'blue Monday.'"

This greatest organization is at your service today, tomorrow, whenever you say the word.

You'll find it is all that the leader of one of the most important economic movements of the day says of it—we try to make our service mean a little more—we banish "blue Monday" completely by taking over every stitch of your family washing and ironing.

Just bundle up everything that needs washing and phone for one of our drivers.

Here Is a Glendale Man

Not in the Insurance Trust

A year ago an attempt was made to force me to handle Board Company Insurance, but I refused to join a combination whose object is the elimination of competition and the raising of rates.

Now, an organization of Glendale Insurance men is advertising that it has been instrumental in lowering Board Insurance rates. These rates went up a year ago and so had considerable room to drop. They haven't come down yet as low as the rates I am offering in Independent companies, some of the very best Fire Insurance Companies in the United States.

I HAVE BEEN SELLING INSURANCE AT THE SAME RATE FOR 23 YEARS—I NEVER RAISED AND NOW I DON'T HAVE TO COME DOWN, FOR MY RATES ARE LOWER THAN THOSE OF BOARD COMPANIES AFTER THEY HAVE BEEN REDUCED.

I have been here 23 years and I am going to stay. I'm going to keep on selling good fire insurance at independent rates. I have an expert on writing insurance in my office, we do our own adjusting and you know right where to find me when you desire an adjustment. We pay losses promptly.

What's the Advantage of Board Insurance?

ABSOLUTELY NONE

The stability and ability to pay of every fire insurance company rests entirely upon its own financial resources. The board gives you no additional guarantees or protection in the event of loss, and each company stands alone, whether belonging to the board or not.

Before being admitted to California, every insurance company is required to furnish essential data to the insurance commissioner, and submit to a rigid examination of its assets and liabilities. Furthermore, they are in no instance allowed to issue policies in California until affidavits as to their sound financial condition have been made and checked by the commissioner of the state in which their charter was granted. It then becomes optional with them whether they affiliate with the board of fire underwriters or carry on their business independent of that organization.

are persuaded that the people of Glendale would unite if given opportunity to do something in this respect in a public way that would fully meet the needs of the young people and older people as well and yet not have attached to it the disagreeable features that seem to be unavoidable in the public licensed institution. I do not believe we need to spend much time discussing as to the kind of games that may be offered to those seeking recreation, provided these games and the institution in which they are offered and operated are under the control and supervision of a competent person of the highest character whose sole interest and effort would be to maintain the institution in harmony with the high moral character of the city and to administer to the real needs both morally and physically of those who may patronize the institution. In our opinion this can best be done by the people themselves supplying the funds for the building and the equipment and authorizing the city to employ a suitable person to conduct the institution at a salary commensurate with the high-class of service that would be expected. A normal charge should be made for every service rendered. It is probable, however, that at first the proceeds therefrom will not be sufficient to cover the cost of operating the institution. The value of such high-class service to the community would be such that the people of Glendale could well afford to contribute to the support thereof just as they contribute to the support of any other public service. It is our opinion that a well trained, competent, red-blooded man in such a position could render a service to the community the value of which would be beyond estimate.

We have had occasion during the last several years to become actually associated with some of the welfare work of the city carried on by the women. There has been organized and now is in operation a City Welfare Bureau and Welfare Council. A large number of the organizations doing welfare work are associated in this work as members of this council. We know that a great deal of very worthy service is being rendered in this way and that there is larger need for such service than most of you can appreciate unless you are acquainted with what is being done. While there is not a large number of very poor people in Glendale, yet we know for a fact that there have been those during the past few years who would have suffered greatly had it not been for the welfare work carried on through these organizations. In planning this institution it is our hope that a portion of the building may be dedicated to this work. We know that the women who have given their time to this work have expressed the desire for a room in which to store worn clothing and other articles of value that with a small amount of repair could be made of service to those who have not the money to buy new or more expensive clothes or furniture. We know it to be a fact that hundreds of dollars worth of clothes and furniture each year could be had in this way and furnished to the needy of the city at a normal figure if a place were provided in which to handle it.

A city growing as rapidly as Glendale requires for its best development an active civic spirit on the part of its men and women of affairs. The good to be derived therefrom would compensate many times for the expenditure in providing a headquarters and facilities for such civic activity. There are those who are constantly working, giving of their time freely for the upbuilding of the city, people who are not officially connected with the city and yet through civic organizations perform a substantial service for its upbuilding. The service these people render is of value to the city as a whole and indirectly affects the interest of the individual property holders. As property holders and taxpayers we might well afford to contribute a small amount to provide suitable quarters from which this work might be carried on, such quarters might properly be located in the same building with the other features mentioned heretofore. There has always been a lack of organized civic effort in the City of Glendale. This has not been the result of the lack of willingness or ability on the part of our people to engage in civic work but rather from a lack of centralizing this force. A civic headquarters provided by the city would facilitate greatly the centralizing and functioning of the civic life of the community.

There has come to us during the past year or two quite a number of expressions in favor of the establishment of a branch city office near the main business center and it would seem that inasmuch as the city is conducting the largest business in the community that such branch office is warranted. There is a great lack of general information on the part of the people of Glendale in regard to their city government. On the other hand the city government has under consideration at the present time a great many matters that are of vital interest to the people of the city and concerning which they should have first hand information. An official information bureau located close to the main business center and operated in conjunction with a branch city business office would be greatly appreciated by the people of Glendale. The time has passed when the only function of the municipality is to keep order. Your city government is a real business, serving the people of the city in a broader sense than possibly most of us realize.

We have outlined a comprehensive institution. The fact is, however, that the several branches of service suggested are all of a like nature and could be housed in one building and operated under city control practically as one institution a great deal more economically than they could be operated separately either publicly or privately.

It is our opinion that the people of Glendale can well afford to own a handsome building located in the main business center on one of our principal business streets and to equip and to operate in such building up-to-date comfort stations and public rest rooms, a recreation center equipped with suitable games and apparatus for athletic sports and men's reading room, headquarters for welfare work and store rooms and work shop in connection therewith, rooms for the use of civic organizations and an assembly room for public meetings on questions of civic interest and to serve as a home for civic and patriotic organizations and a branch business office for the city and an official information bureau.

Let us look upon this as one institution and every unit or item of it as a public necessity. Let it be said after November 2, next, that the people of Glendale responded enthusiastically and favorably to the first opportunity offered them to meet the needs of the community that will be served by such an institution by authorizing on that date the issuing of bonds to cover the cost thereof.

Park and Swimming Pool

The City of Glendale is now engaged in growing a park on a site of over two city blocks in extent. This site was purchased by the city under contract from J. R. Gray of West Doran Street. It contains about eight acres. The purchase price was $10,000 and it is to be paid for in four annual payments of $2500 each, of which Mr. Gray donated to the city the first payment. There is a special fund of $2,056.45 which represents a duplicate tax paid by the people of Valley View, Kenilworth and Grand View districts the first year following the annexation of these districts to the city. The city would have returned this money to the taxpayers of these districts had legal means been found to do so. About one year ago pursuant to the instructions of the Board of Trustees notices were sent to a large number of resident property holders within these districts of a meeting that was to be held in the City Hall to consider as to what these property holders desired be done with this fund. Quite a number of property holders of these districts were present at such meeting and it was the opinion of those present that the fund should be used as a nucleus to purchase a park site to be located in the section of the city represented by these districts. The meeting so reported to the Board of Trustees. When this fund of a little over $2000 as well as the donation of $2500 by Mr. Gray is paid on the purchase price of this park site, the amount to be paid by the taxpayers of the city as a whole therefor will be a little less than $5500.

This growing park is located at the northwest corner of Patterson and Kenilworth Avenues. The city is really and truly growing a park there. This tract of land, less than a year ago a cow pasture, is now laid out as a city park and has over one thousand beautiful trees growing thereon. These trees have made a splendid growth during the past summer. We will have a real park there almost before we realize it. This park is admirably situated in the center of the rapidly growing northwest section of the city. We need two other such parks, one in the southern and one in the eastern section of the city. If J. R. Gray or any other public spirited individual should offer a proposition by which the city could acquire one or both of these additional parks, upon such favorable terms and at such reasonable prices as the present park was acquired, we are of the opinion that the people of the city could not afford to neglect such an opportunity to acquire these additional parks. However, we have this one park now and why not let us develop thereon an outdoor playground, recreation center and picnic grounds. We will then have made a substantial beginning in providing the city with these very necessary and indispensable features of a City of Homes.

The $100,000 bond issue you will be asked to authorize by your vote next Tuesday, November 2, will make possible the construction in this park one of the most expensive features of a modern recreation center, namely, a swimming pool. Brookside Park in Pasadena is a beautiful place, but its one feature of chief interest to the young people of Glendale is its swimming pool. This new park offers a splendid location for a swimming pool within a mile of the business center of the city.

Will not the establishment of this Civic and Recreation Center in the center of the city, modest though it be, and the developing of the one park we now have as an open air playground and recreation center encourage us to meet and solve the many other problems that confront us at this time? It is said that nothing succeeds like success. Demonstration is better than argument or expressions of good intention. Now let us demonstrate.

There is not much hope for the man who reaches 50 years and continues to think that his judgment is not faulty at times.

It seems to be entirely human to desire that lower prices be applied to every business except our own.

WILSON DELIVERS SPEECH TO PRO-LEAGUERS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Declaring that Americanization, which Senator Harding has been preaching during the campaign, is "spurious and invented for party purposes only," President Wilson today delivered a brief statement to a delegation of pro-League Republicans who visited the White House.

Wilson said he regretted that the League issue was involved with partisan issues.

"It is feared that the supreme issue presented in the present campaign is growing more obscure rather than clearer because of the many arbitrary turns that the discussions have taken," the statement said.

Wilson said that the war having been won, it is now America's purpose to complete the great moral achievements which the war represented.
